

Bidding Farewell to 2018: A Year in Review

Dec 18, 2018 12:12 pm PST

Dear Reader,

As the New Year approaches, there is always so much activity and business to attend to, but it is also important to take a look back at the experiences and connections that made 2018 a fantastic year. We have enjoyed hearing feedback from readers and conference attendee's that mention the journals as an important resource for their organization, as well as for their personal growth. After over 20 years of providing peer-reviewed content, this is always one of our top indicators of success.

In 2018, we held 14 events that moved the needle in the industry (check out all of our presentations in our 2018 Conference Passport), introduced a wave of new writers from around the world, released the Medical Device Validation Handbook, continued our coverage of the Women's Empowerment Summit at Validation Week, and much more.

With that, we would like to refer you to our upcoming events in 2019:

In addition, we deeply appreciate all of the hard work of this year's 2018 Award Winners, including our top speakers and authors. Discover all of our winners by clicking here.

We extend the warmest wishes to you this holiday season and a Happy New Year! We look forward to providing another year of top-notch, quality articles for 2019. If you are interested in contributing as a writer or peer reviewer, please drop us a line at editor@ivtnetwork.com.

Happy Holidays,

The IVT Network Team
