Audit Forum is a regular IVT feature providing readers an opportunity to discuss information, experiences, and practices within the broad scope of audits. Audits are a part of daily life in pharma, med devices, and other regulated industries. Audits used to be relatively limited and generally routine in performance. In the “old” days (more than 2 years ago), audits were conducted face-to-face at the manufacturing site. Some audits began with facility tours and emphasized review of documented procedures; others were more process oriented as opposed to document reviews. Company...
